

LES TROIS 2016

AOC LUSSAC-SAINT-ÉMILION

Located on the right bank of the Garonne and Dordogne rivers, and just north of Saint-Emilion is Lussac Saint-Emilion, equipped with naturally good drainage and plenty of sunlight. The terroir of Lussac is characterized by the diversity of its soils, distributed between the plateaus, sides of the hills, and small valleys. These soils are mainly composed of clay and limestone, allowing the Lussac wines to express delicious, intense aromas, with notes of red fruit and underlying hints of licorice, prune and spice.
